Dr. Carida Doggett Corse Florida Writers Project Jacksonville, Florida

Dear Dr. Corse:

Some amount of search has been necessary to locate the approval for copying the photographs made by the Florida Writers Project in connection with their folk lore research. I have finally found this approval, however, and can now order the material necessary for this work. Will you be able to make copies of these photographs for the Library of Congress if we furnish the materials? The collection is referred to as the "Collection of Photographs of Folk Singers Photographed in their Native Surroundings".

Very sincerely yours, Alan Lomax Assistant in Charge Archive of American Folk Songs
